

013
V.1

Challenges in electronic payment methods:
Legal issues with a specific reference to the development in China

University of Macau
Faculty of Law

Supervisor: Prof. Muruga Perumal Ramaswamy

Student Name: YU YA YAN

Student Number: MA561125

Table of Contents

Chapter I: Introduction.....	1
1. Review of Literature	4
2. Objective of this thesis.....	11
3. Scope and limitations.....	12
4. Methodology	12
5. Research questions.....	13
6. Chapter layout.....	15
Chapter II: E-commerce and its new development with regard to electronic payment.....	19
1. The basic introduction of e-commerce	19
1.1 The definition of e-commerce.....	19
1.2 The basic types of e-commerce and their development	21
2. The new development of e-commerce with regard to electronic payment.....	24
2.1 The new e-payment development.....	25
2.1.1 Internet payment	26
2.1.1.1 Different types of web-based payment method	26
2.1.1.2 Internet payment through trusted third party payment intermediary	30
2.1.1.2.1 Providing funds for payment	30

2.1.1.2.2 Making payments.....	31
2.1.1.2.3 Collecting payments	33
2.1.2 Mobile payment and telephone payment.....	33
2.2 New actor in internet payment mechanism – trusted third party	34
2.2.1 Certification authority (CA)	35
2.2.2 Evolution and regulation for trusted third party in e-payment system.....	38
2.2.2.1 Conventional trusted third parties.....	39
2.2.2.2 Emerging new models of trusted third party	45
Chapter III: Major legal challenges arising from internet payment	49
1. The challenges from liability perspective.....	50
1.1 The situations which CA may be exposed to liability	51
1.1.1 The liability arising from fraud or error	52
1.1.2 Failure to suspend or revoke certificates	54
1.2 Liability in contract and liability in tort.....	56
1.2.1 Contractual liability	58
1.2.1.1 The relationship and allocation of liability based on contract.....	58
1.2.1.2 Ability to contractually limit CA's liability	61
1.2.2 Tort liability	65
1.2.2.1 Fault-based liability – “duty of care”	66
1.2.2.2 Strict liability for CAs.....	68

1.3 Closer examining of third party payment intermediary – PayPal as an example	69
1.3.1 The legal status for new arising payment intermediaries	70
1.3.2 The liability for fraud or error in online payment	72
2. The challenges from jurisdiction perspective	76
2.1 Traditional jurisdiction rules in internet	77
2.1.1 Difficulty to determine jurisdiction in internet cases based on traditional rules	79
2.1.2 Traditional jurisdictional rules vs. new rules.....	81
2.2 Country of origin or country of destination.....	84
2.2.1 Country of origin approach.....	85
2.2.2 Country of destination approach.....	86
2.3 The adoption of forum selection clauses in internet environment	88
2.3.1 The advantage of adopting “forum selection clauses” in online contracts	90
2.3.2 The challenge arising from online “forum selection clauses”	92
Chapter IV: The domestic and international legal developments related to electronic payment in the field of e-commerce	97
1. The responses to liability challenge.....	97
1.1 United Nations Commission on International Trade Law

(UNCITRAL).....	97
1.1.1 UNCITRAL Model Law on Electronic Commerce	97
1.1.2 UNCITRAL Model Law on Electronic Signature.....	99
1.2 European Union	103
1.3 United States	108
1.3.1 The ABA Digital Signature Guidelines	108
1.3.2 The state regulation – Utah Digital Signature Act.....	112
1.3.2.1 Obligating CA’s activities	113
1.3.2.2 Ability to contractually disclaim or limit liability	115
1.4 The responses toward internet payment intermediary – PayPal as an example	118
1.4.1 European Union	118
1.4.2 United States	122
2. The responses to internet jurisdictional challenge.....	129
2.1 The Hague Conference of Private International Law	130
2.1.1 Preliminary Draft Convention on Jurisdiction and Foreign Judgments in Civil and Commercial Matters	130
2.1.2 The Convention on Choice of Court Agreements	133
2.1.3 The attitude towards forum selection clause in consumer contracts	136
2.2 The European Union’s approach.....	139
2.2.1 The Brussels Convention.....	139

2.2.2 The Brussels Regulation	141
2.3 United States	145
2.3.1 The approach of U.S. towards internet jurisdiction issue in e-commerce	145
2.3.1.1 Traditional notions of jurisdiction in U.S. courts	145
2.3.1.2 The evolution of internet case law in U.S.	147
2.3.1.2.1 “Zippo” case: sliding scale of online interactivity	147
2.3.1.2.2 The “effects” test in cyberspace	149
2.3.2 U.S. approach to forum selection clause in online contracts	151
2.3.2.1 The cases upholding click-wrap online contracts	152
2.3.2.2 The cases questioning click-wrap online contracts	154
2.4 Difficulty of a hybrid solution for internet jurisdiction	158
Chapter V: The Chinese legal and regulatory system in dealing with new challenges arising from e-payment system	161
1. The e-commerce and electronic payment system in China	161
1.1 Chinese e-commerce market and its recent development	161
1.1.1 The development of e-commerce in China	161
1.1.2 The status quo of Chinese e-commerce in recent years	162
1.2 Chinese e-payment system	165
1.2.1 The general e-payment development in China	166

1.2.2 The online payment industry in China.....	168
1.2.3 The emerging trusted third party payment intermediaries for online payment.....	170
2. The basic legal and regulatory framework for e-commerce in China	174
2.1 The national legislation.....	174
2.1.1 The Contract Law 1999	175
2.1.2The Electronic Signature Law 2004	177
2.1.3 Electronic banking regulations	178
2.2 The local rules in Chinese cities and provinces.....	179
2.2.1 Shanghai Municipality.....	180
2.2.2 Guangdong Province	182
3. The legal approach towards liability challenge	183
3.1 The Electronic Signature Law	184
3.1.1 General Obligations	184
3.1.1.1 The compulsory obligations for electronic certification service providers (ECSP).....	185
3.1.1.1.1 The competency to be the prospective ECSP	185
3.1.1.1.2 The mandatory “business rules”	185
3.1.1.1.3The duties towards the electronic signatory and relying party	186
3.1.1.2 The obligations of electronic signatory/subscribers ...	187

3.1.2 The apportionment of liabilities.....	189
3.1.2.1 Liability for electronic certificate service provider (ECSP)	190
3.1.2.2 Liability for electronic signatory/subscriber	192
3.1.2.3 Liability for other parties and governmental department	193
3.2 Measures for the Administration of Electronic Certification Service.....	195
3.2.1The further obligations for ECSP beyond the duties in Electronic Signature Law (“ESL”)	197
3.2.1.1The entry qualifications	197
3.2.1.2 ECSP’s duty to provide and maintain qualified services	198
3.2.1.2.1 Information presentation and report duty	198
3.2.1.2.2 Self-regulation rules.....	198
3.2.1.2.3 Duty of disclosure.....	199
3.2.1.2.4 Warranties	199
3.2.1.2.5 Secrecy obligation	200
3.2.2 The liability for breach of duty	201
3.3 The E-payment Guidance (No.1).....	202
3.3.1The general obligations for each party	203
3.3.2 The allocation of liability.....	205

3.4 Regulating the internet third party payment intermediary	206
4. The responses to jurisdiction issue	210
4.1 The response from e-commerce enterprise itself.....	210
4.2 The judicial practice.....	212
4.2.1 General jurisdiction rules.....	213
4.2.2The jurisdiction for internet disputes	218
Chapter VI: Conclusion	226
1. Findings.....	226
1.1 Related to liability challenge	226
1.2 Related to jurisdiction challenge	237
1.3 Related to China.....	241
2. Conclusions and Recommendations	247
2.1 For liability issue	247
2.2 For jurisdictional issue.....	255