

Abstract

Along with the traditional Chinese medicines in the world medicine status enhancement day by day, the citizens also begin to accept the function that Chinese medicine cures the disease. And change the old thinking that Chinese medicine was only health care and auxiliary therapeutically function. Due to the citizens begin to accept the traditional Chinese medicine treatment function, took a responsible government, should supervise and manage, the encouragement and the promotion role, to establish a scientific and standardized traditional Chinese medicine management system. In order to guarantee the operation level of traditional Chinese medicine service, establish the Chinese medicine professional legal status, the safeguard general citizens' health.

This thesis research goal is hope to through understand other national and local training and the Chinese medicine registration system, studies insufficiency of and the disparity of Macao Chinese medicine registration system and training system through the comparison. Offer the suggestion to establish a scientific, standardized traditional Chinese medicine system, which accord to Macao actual situation needs. The standardized system can unify the standard and quality of Chinese traditional medical, safeguards the citizens' health and the Chinese medicine in Macao development, thus moves towards the world.

Quality study is adapted to the research method; Uses way data collection and so on literature collection, visit. Using the Policy study, the laws and regulations which printed by the government official website in and the policy document for the main research material, the analysis comparison the area which was similar with this local history and the political context, like national and local and so on US, China, Hong Kong, Singapore and Taiwan Chinese medicine administration system and training system. Learn from others' successful experience for reference, use other's strong points to offset ours weaknesses. Also use Literature survey study to probe into the regulation system of traditional Chinese medicine in Macao, provides effective argument for this article research.

Also introduced at present traditional Chinese medicine development in Macao, to analyze traditional Chinese medicine registration system and the training system extant problem, it is shown as difference professional's quality, the registration system has not been able to coordinate Chinese medicine industry at present and the future development, lack a examining and assessment system, and a supervising and evaluating system not to be imperfect,, deficiently to continuing education system, the Chinese medicine education lacks the high quality teachers troop and the Chinese medicine graduate future not bright and so on. And proposed the establishment standardization registration system necessity and the importance, as well as development on continuing education of traditional Chinese medicine so significance and principle proposes the proof, thus basis for to establish a scientific, standardized Chinese medicine system in Macao. Through perfecting and standardization the system, the medical level and quality of Chinese medicine in Macao can be develop and be promote, and also promote this local the Chinese medicine development to move towards the world, face the world.

In facing the social demand change, the traditional Chinese medicine development change, the government must carry on scientific, modernized and the standardized management to the Chinese medicine. This article tries according to the modern management science theory and refers to the motherland and other local Chinese medicine manages the new theory, the new method, the new technology as a foundation, such for reforming time existence some concrete problem of traditional Chinese medicine in Macao, from the multi- angles systematically elaborated the management idea of the Chinese medicine management and the continuing education, puts forward the improvement proposal and should to the measure.

The talented person and the resources comparatively lack in Macao , in the traditional Chinese medicine development, must depend upon Hong Kong, China and Taiwan's cooperation and help. The government must use its historical and the geography superiority, the cooperation between four places is complementary with Hong Kong, China and Taiwan. In displays the bridge, the communication role with European Union and in other Portuguese language country, publicizes the Chinese tradition medical culture, this not only strengthened Macao's international status, also for impels the Chinese tradition medical culture to make the contribution face the world.

Key word:

Traditional Chinese medicine educating Continuing education
Standardized management Registration system