

UNIVERSITY OF MACAU

FACULTY OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

MARKET ORIENTATION IN A MACAU
UTILITY COMPANY:
A CASE STUDY

THESIS PRESENTED TO THE
FACULTY OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION, UNIVERSITY
OF MACAU, FOR THE GRANTING OF THE MBA DEGREE IN STRATEGIC MANAGEMENT

JOAQUIM ANTUNES AMARO

1996

0 6 MAR 1997

INDEX

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS	3
1- INTRODUCTION
1.1 What is this thesis about?	5
1.2 A brief history of CEM	5
1.3 The core business of the company: Is electricity a Product or a Service?.....	6
1.4 Why this case study?	7
1.5 Business Culture and Change	11
1.6 A Quality culture: the Quality concept	12
1.7 The Marketing concept	12
1.8 Market Orientation	12
1.9 Methodology	13
1.10 Conclusion	13
2-THEORETICAL FRAMEWORK
2.1. -Business, culture and change
2.1.1 Business	15
2.1.2 Culture, change and attitudes	19
2.1.3 A strategy for change	22
2.1.4 Measuring attitudes and the process of change	24
2.1.5 Reaching people: a communication strategy for change	30
2.1.6 Changing to the era of people and processes	36
2.1.7 The important role of managers in the process of change	38
2.1.8 Information: Reducing the uncertainty of change	40
2.1.9 Business, Culture and change - conclusion	41
2.2 - A quality culture: the quality concept	42
2.3 - The Marketing concept and a flowchart to guide implementation	50
2.4 - Market Orientation
2.4.1 - Initial considerations	54
2.4.2 - Detailed model for measuring market orientation	57
3 - CASE STUDY: FORMULATED HYPOTHESES AND METHODOLOGY	73
4- CASE STUDY: MAIN RESULTS	79
5 - FORECASTING THE FUTURE, CONCLUSIONS AND RECOMMENDATIONS	109
BIBLIOGRAPHY	119
APPENDICES
Appendix I - Questionnaire
Appendix II - Graphs with results	