

Abstract

With the computer network of rapid development, blog which is a new writing way increasingly public concern on Network. It is a private open of writing. Right now there are many works on blog study ,but one of these are concern about Communication. Blog writing Impact of cultural innovation because that it very popular .How can we treat the new space of literature expression?

There are six chapters in the thesis.

The first chapter introduce definition、 development、 and Literary Features about blog writing.The second chapter studies the blog's text. Analysis of blog writing is different from the traditional writing of the new writing .Blog break traditional norms, Fuzzy various genre boundaries. It is a non-genre writing style. Interactive is one of features by Blog.The third chapter Analysis of blog writing language features. Blog writing main features of the language of dialogue, games, deconstructive three characteristics. The forth chapter from the cultural Sociology perspective blog "non-classical" Writing, compare between the grassroots culture and classic literature. The fifth chapter From the feminist perspective ,we knew the women bloggers create a female principal position. We need to find the harmonious voices of the gender from blog. The sixth chapter study from the philosophy of blog Writing. It Analysis the underlying motivation of blog writing.From the aesthetic point of view, the bloggers Write blog to the daily life aesthetic. Although they don't consider the value of life and moral significance of caring on the surface, Writers were eager pursuit of fame recognition. In order to satisfy a sense of accomplishment, bloggers don't abandon the value of significance.

Keywords: blog writing blog space text