

A Study of Macao's Identity in a Local English Newspaper

Cheung Wai, Astrid

Student No. M-A3-5502-4

A dissertation submitted in partial fulfillment of the Master of Arts in English Studies

UNIVERSITY OF MACAU

July 2006

Contents

Abstract		i
Acknowledgement		ii
Declaration		iii
List of Figures		iv
Chapter 1	Introduction
1.1	Background	1
1.2	Research Orientation	6
1.3	Theoretical Background	7
1.4	Macao's Identity, Media Discourse and CDA	17
1.5	Thesis Organization	18
Chapter 2	Theoretical Framework of CDA
2.1	Fairclough's Three-dimensional Framework	19
2.2	Halliday's Systemic-functional Grammar	20
2.3	Summary	33
Chapter 3	Macao's Identity as Presented in TMPD
3.1	Data	34
3.2	Macao as Presented in Non-local English Media	37
3.3	Macao as Presented in TMPD	51
3.4	Summary	63
Chapter 4	Analysis of Individual Texts
4.1	Different Aspects of Macao in TMPD	65
4.2	Macao's Economy and New Horizon	66
4.3	Macao: A World-recognized Cultural City	88
4.4	Macao's Society	92
4.5	Macao's Political Belief	95
4.6	Postcolonial Ties With Portugal	99
Chapter 5	Conclusions
5.1	Summary of Major Findings	105
5.2	The Significance of the City's Identity in The Macau Post Daily	108

Appendix A	110
Appendix B	114
Appendix C	119
Appendix D	120
Appendix E	122
Appendix F	124
Appendix G	126
Appendix H	128
Appendix I	130
Appendix J	132
References	134